FINANCE AND TRADE.

OUR REVIEW of the cotton market last week quoted New York middling at 16 c; the next day it advanced to 16 c, and on Menday to 16 c. New Orleans quoted 15fe; advanced on Monday to 15le, and on Tuesday to 15le. Liverpool quoted 7id, but advanced on Monday to 7 15-16d. Memphis quoted 15 c, which on Monday became 16c. The changes in Liverpool, and to in Memphis. As erpool statement of the week: on last week, the changes here noted are slight, but again they are in an advanced direction. The principal reason of the strong position of cotton is the light receipts; gold has not averaged as high as on the preceding week, but it was high enough to aid the figures. The week's results at Marchine however were receipts at Memphis, however, were higher than those of the previous week, and were but 37 bales below those of the been the very small purchases by ex-porters, and the strength of the demand for cottons below low middling and tained cottons, while the better grades are neglected. As the stock of low cottons is but small, the course of the demand prevents sales being as large as they other ways would be; while selling prices of low grades are relatively higher than those of the upper. The closing day of the business week being Good Friday, the cotton exchange was closed; this makes the week's business appear diminished. The following we con-dense from the cotton report of Watts & Co., Liverpool, of March 12th: "The demand for cotton on the spot has been very limited, due mainly to the fact that Euglish spinners, having a large stock, have been induced to hold off, in order to ascertain what would be the effect on our market of the large import known to be due. The import this week, it will be observed, has been quite large. Public opinion, so far as we can learn, seems to have settled down to a conviction that the American crop this season will be about 3,850,000 to 3,900,000 Our market has for some weeks past strict middling and above. For every bale of say good middling there are perhence the higher grades are almost ungood ordinary, are at present very scarce, in fact scarcer than we have ever know them, considering the period of the year and the large stock of

> THE cotton market yesterday, Mon day, was inactive; there were no dispatches from Liverpool on account of the Easter holidays, and in their absence there was no disposition to operate, and sales were confined to 400 bales. There were plenty of samples on the tables, principally of upper grade cottons, which there is a desire to dispose of at a little easiness in the price, but almost the only kinds asked for were lower grades, which are scarce.
